

Twelv

Twelv is the social media platform without social pressure that gives back to communities.

What makes us different?

Healthier Social Platform

STOP comparing yourself to others

The well being of our community is our #1 priority. That is why we have decided to develop a metrics-free social experience. There is no race for likes and followers so you can be yourself.

Data Protection

STOP being used

Twelv ensures your data stays private through a subscriptions based business model. Your information should not be for sale to the highest bidder. For 1$ a month we guarantee that you will not be sold out. Free cheese is only in the mouse trap.

START Giving Back

Twelv is pledging to donate a portion of its profits to charities. We believe in making Twelv a positive force for improving the world around us but we can't do it without you. As our community grows, we will continue to increase Monthly contributions. This is our chance to build a better social network together as well as a better world!

Here is how it works:

Monthly donations to charitable organization will go into effect as soon as our community reaches 10,000 subscribers. Charities and organizations working to make our world a better place will be able to apply for this grant every month through our website. The bigger our community gets, the more we give back!
